

OP'24 Symposium

OP'24 Symposium « Advancing Ocean Prediction Science for Societal Benefits »

November 18-22, 2024

at Maison de l'UNESCO in Paris

OP'24 Symposium

OP'24 Symposium « Advancing Ocean Prediction Science for Societal Benefits »

at Maison de l'UNESCO in Paris - November 18-22, 2024

The Symposium will seek to:

- accelerate the evolution of operational oceanography
- identify the growing and changing needs of users and how to enhance service delivery
- align the objectives with the goals of the UN Decade of Ocean Science for Sustainable Development (UNDOS, 2021-2030)

OP'24 Symposium

Partnership with IOC for the organization, partnership with WMO

The Maison de l'UNESCO is located in central Paris close to the Eiffel tower

Nice fully equipped « vintage » rooms 1960's style, work of arts from Miro, Picasso etc..

4 meeting rooms in parallel for 400; 96; 45, 45 persons
A larger room for ~280 persons is also available and could replace one of the 45 p room, depending on funding

OP'24 Symposium

OP'24 Symposium « Advancing Ocean Prediction Science for Societal Benefits »

at Maison de l'UNESCO in Paris - November 18-22, 2024

Theme 1: Operational Oceanography: Past, Present, and Future

Theme 2: Observations for Ocean Prediction

Theme 3: Numerical Modelling

Theme 4: Data Assimilation

Theme 5: Ocean Prediction Systems and Services

Theme 6: User Applications and Societal Benefits

Possible new theme 7: Emerging applications of Machine Learning within Operational Oceanography

Additional Theme: Digital Twins of the Ocean

Session to make the link with the UN Ocean Decade

OP'24 Symposium

OP'24 Symposium « Advancing Ocean Prediction Science for Societal Benefits »

at Maison de l'UNESCO in Paris - November 18-22, 2024

Estimate cost: 400 pers.

Conference rooms rentals, all included = 90 k€

Catering = 70 k€

} 160 k€

Registration fees = 35-50 k€ (140-200 registration fees: 250 €/ pers. and 0 € for early career or students). Vouchers for lunch, coffee, social event

TOTAL = 110-125 k€ (+ 10% subject to the 2024 rate increase) = 120-140 k€

Extra cost to be expected if

- a special journal issue is produced from the symposium presentations. Still to be confirmed.
- Recorded presentations & discussions would be uploaded to YouTube

OP'24 Symposium

OP'24 Symposium « Advancing Ocean Prediction Science for Societal Benefits »

at Maison de l'UNESCO in Paris - November 18-22, 2024

Estimate cost: 400 pers.

Hall room rentals, “all included” = 90 k€

Hiring of meeting, dinner and exhibition rooms / Conference materials and equipment (audio, video, recording) / Audio and sound technicians / Online assistance

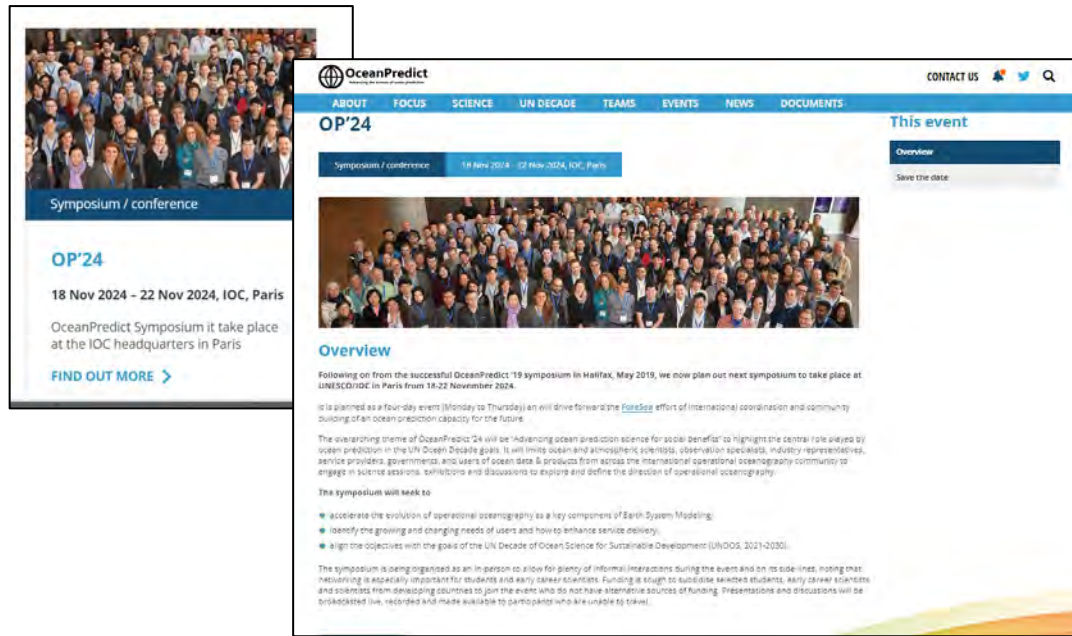

Security staffs + Host services + Fire brigade

Posters printing

OceanPredict website

Announcement on "Events" webpage

The screenshot shows the OceanPredict website's 'Events' page for OP'24. The page features a large group photo of the previous symposium, the event title 'OP'24', and dates '18 Nov 2024 - 22 Nov 2024, IOC, Paris'. A 'FIND OUT MORE' button is visible. The main content area includes an 'Overview' section with text about the event's focus on advancing ocean prediction science for social benefit, its location at UNESCO IOC in Paris, and its alignment with the UN Decade of Ocean Science for Sustainable Development (UOOS, 2021-2030). It also mentions that the symposium is being organized as an in-person event with many informal interactions during the event and on its side-lines, noting that networking is especially important for students and early career scientists.

Save The Date

Announcement sent by email to all OceanPredict community (mid-oct)

Please SHARE this announcement

The screenshot shows an email announcement from Stephanie Cuvén. The subject is 'OceanPredict: Symposium OP'24 - Save The Date! 18-22 November 2024'. The email body includes a 'Dear all,' greeting and an invitation to the 'OceanPredict Symposium - OP'24' to be held at the Maison de l'UNESCO in Paris, France, on 18-22 November 2024. It states that the event will focus on the development of the operational oceanography value chain for societal benefit and that OceanPredict has partnered with the Intergovernmental Oceanographic Commission of UNESCO (IOC/UNESCO) for the Decade of Ocean Science for Sustainable Development. Below the text is a promotional graphic for the 'Symposium OP'24' featuring a world map with a grid overlay and the text 'Advancing ocean prediction science for social benefits'. At the bottom of the graphic, it says 'SAVE THE DATE 18-22 November 2024 Paris, France' and 'in partnership with unesco'.

summary

- Please advertize the workshop in your networks
- Do not hesitate to suggest sessions
- Sponsors are welcome
- Get prepared for the call for abstract, and fanstastic time in Paris ;-)